

Contents

Romania and the Great Powers in the 19th Century

Eusebiu-Costel Diaconu, In the Service of His Majesty: The British Consular Service in Black Sea Ports. Administration and Personnel (1825-1842)	7
Gheorghe Cliveti, The Romania and the Russo-Ottoman Peace of San Stefano ...	19

Eastern Europe during the Two World Wars

Iana Balan, Romania's entry into the First World War (August 1916). Reactions and reflections in the Russian press	93
Francisco Guida, Adversaries, not enemies: Hungary and Italy at the end of the First World War	145
Radu Florian Bruja, Romanian-Slovak political-diplomatic relations (June-December 1941)	161

Propaganda and Cultural Diplomacy

Mihaela Botnari, Soviet Intellectuals in Romania: Travel Notes and Official Reports of Soviet Envoys in the Romanian People's Republic (1945-1965) ..	189
Paul Nistor, External Propaganda and Identity. The exhibition of Romanian folk art in the USA (1959-1960)	207

Documents

Lucian Corduneanu, Ionel Moldovan, The letters of Archimandrite Gurie Grosu to Bishop Pimen Georgescu of Moldova	225
---	-----

Bibliographic Notes and Reviews

- Ioana Elena Secu, Revoluția contaminată. Ideea rusă și noua politică internațională a Kremlinului (1925-1953), Târgoviște, Editura Cetatea de Scaun, 2022, 316 p. (Alexandru D. Aioanei) 243
- David A. Andelman, Linia roșie. Diplomația, strategia și războaiele de mâine, Târgoviște, Editura Cetatea de Scaun, 2022, 452 p. (Paul Nistor) 248
- Sarah Kirchberger, Svenja Sinjen, Nils Wörmer (eds.), Russia-China Relations. Emerging Alliance or Eternal Rivals?, New York, Springer, 2022, 316 p. (Paul Nistor) 254
- Laure Marchand, Guillaume Perrier, Turcia și fantoma armeană. Pe urmele genocidului, București, Editura Corint, 2015, 288 p. (Remus Tanasă) 261